

Where to eat and drink around the University of Glasgow campus

There are many cafes, pubs and restaurants around the University campus, and are particularly abundant on the west side of the campus around Byres Road, and to the north along Great Western Road. Described below are some coffee shops, bars and restaurants that will be convenient for people attending the pre-conference workshops in the Molema Building, but are also just a ~25 minute walk from the conference center for eating out in the evening.

Note that Byres Road is on the map as B808

Glasgow was ranked in the top 5 most vegetarian friendly cities in the world, and it is more rare than not to find no vegetarian or vegan options. In general Glasgow is very accommodating of dietary requirements including dairy free, gluten free, vegetarian, and vegan, however at some restaurants you need to ask if there are vegetarian options that aren't on the menu.
